Kramer Reunion.

A most interesting and successful family reunion was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. E. B. Kramer, of Smithtown, in celebration of the doctor's seventy-eighth birthday, on Sunday, June 25. The immediate members of the family were all present, being five sons, one daughter, four daughters-in-law, one son-in-law, nineteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. M. Kramer and family, Neva, Samuel and Fred, of Clarksburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kramer and family, Sidney, Marion, Joseph and Charles, of Fairmont; Mr. and Mrs. Worthy H. Post and family, Caroline, Elizabeth, Herman, Mary, Paul, Elsworth and Ala., of Baxter; Mr. and Mrs. George E. Kramer and family, Ada and Freda Gay, of Smithtown; Mr. and Mrs.

Will A. Kramer and family, Allen, Martha and Charlotte, of Smithtown; Mrs. George Watson and two daughters (great grandchildren) Kathleen and Alice, of Morgantown; and Baltzer Kramer, the "lone bachelor," of Mount Clare.

A handsome leather couch was presented to Mr. Kramer by the children and the day was spent in pleasant conversation and songs, intermingled with short readings by the younger members present. One special feature of the occasion, and in fact a most important event, was the dinner that was served by "Aunt Sis," who, by the way, is noted for her excellent cuisine of long standing.

A number of other relatives and friends called during the day to extend congratulations and best wishes, among whom were M. L. Hutchinson and daughters, Laura Lee, Irene and Martha, and son, Melville; C. E. Hutchinson and sons, Claude and James and Lee, of Fairmont; Mrs. Kate Merrifield and the Misses Alma and Belle Merrifield, of Mount Harmony; Edmond Watson, Miss Rose Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Heath Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Clate Stansbury and others, of Shinnston.

On September 6, Mr. and Mrs. Kramer will have been married three score years and fifteen, having lived together principally all of this time in the vicinity of Smithtown, where they count their friends by the score, the respect and esteem of which were made manifest Sunday by the large number that was present. At a reasonable hour in the evening the crowd dispersed, wishing Dr. and Mrs. Kramer many more years of continued prosperity and happiness.

WEST VIRGINIA TROOPS MAY GO AT ANY TIME

They Are Ready the War Department at Washington Announces.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The West Virginia regiment encamped at Kanawha City, near Charleston, may entrain and start for the Mexican border whenever it is ready, was the announcement at the war department Sunday. It is up to the commander of the regiment. There will be no further orders from Washington. The only thing is that Washington will insist that the regiment shall be recruited up to 1,600 men and be "ready" to move forward for service. No regiment short of 1,600 men will be accepted.

With that number required it is presumed that practically all of the men of the two regiments of the West Virginia guard who are willing to subscribe to the oath and be mustered in, will have the chance they covet. This presumption is based on the fact that while on paper the state had two full regiments, actually it had not. Actually, it is believed that West Virginia had in its two regiments a muster just about the number that the war department requires for a full regiment in the present situation—1,600 men.

The state's congressional delegation have had their volume of official business greatly increased by the Mexican outbreak and the call of the citizen soldiery to the colors. Letters by the hundreds have been pouring in on them asking them all sorts of questions and giving them a lot of errands to run and information to ascertain and transmit. The members of the delegation are fast learning the intricacies of military rules, laws and departmental affairs at the Forethought.

People are learning that a little forethought often saves them a big expense. Here is an instance: E. W. Archer, Caldwell, Ohio, writes: "I do not believe that our family has been without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since we commenced keeping house years ago. When we go on an extended visit we take it with us." Obtainable everywhere.—Advertisement.

SYRACUSE BEATS CORNELL, WINS BIG POUGHKEEPSIE REGATTA

The Syracuse varsity crew in action.

The Syracuse varsity and the Syracuse junior crews were the brilliant performers in the recent Poughkeepsie regatta, these both pulling away from the rest of the field and winning in fine style. In the varsity four-mile event Syracuse beat Cornell by a good boat length of open water, making the distance in 20:15.2-8. Cornell gave Syracuse the only real competition and without her it would have been a languid affair.

war department. Heretofore about as near they got to that was to chase pension claims and the pension bureau is by no means a close relation of the war department.

From many of these letters received it appears that the fires of patriotism are burning high in West Virginia. There are a lot of these letter writers who have written to find out how they can get into the service for duty on the border or across it. Of course, there is only one answer to give them and that is they must get in via the national guard, whether it is West Virginia's or some other state. If West Virginia's regiment is recruited up to the full quota, the information is given to the applicant that the District of Columbia's quota isn't full, and Washington is not a great distance from any point in West Virginia for a patriotic young man who is ambitious militarily. And the further information is given that at the rate enlistment is going on here, the District's quota will not be recruited until next Saturday midnight. So there is plenty of time for any West Virginians to get here, and he will find a right hearty welcome, too, if he has been unable to recruit at Kanawha City.

The members of the West Virginia delegation in Congress have been prompt, interested and industrious in looking after the extra business imposed upon them by the present Mexican crisis, and will continue to be all of that and more, if possible. If any one doubts that it hasn't imposed a lot of extra work on them that doubt would be immediately dispelled by reading their daily mail, each letter calling for something or another to be done, or certain information to be secured and forwarded at once.

There are more men in West Virginia interested in this matter of going to the front, or something next of kin to it, than the people of that state would believe. All this on top of additional duties in the House imposed by the Mexican outbreak, added to the ordinary heavy office and departmental routine, is making every senator and congressman a brother of the little bee which improves each shining hour.

There are a number of West Virginians either on the border or over it in some sort of military capacity or another. Captain Ralph C. Caldwell, son of the late Charles T. Caldwell and nephew of James L. Caldwell, the Huntington millionaire banker, is with the Eleventh cavalry which was sent to the relief of the unfortunate troops of the "Fighting Tenth" when news of their ambush by Gomez forces reached General Pershing. Earnest Lee, colored, a private in the Tenth is one of the prisoners captured and taken to Chihuahua City. He is from Huntington. A fellow prisoner is Harvey M. Lee, of Gallipolis, O., formerly of Point Pleasant. There are a number of West Virginians with the ships of the navy lying off Mexican seaports, too. Inquiries probably from relatives have reached the delegation from Huntington, but there is no additional information to be had about Ernest Lee. If he is still living it is believed certain that he is among the prisoners taken by the Mexicans.

WEST VIRGINIA BOYS

Rumors Have It Will Be Ordered to the Mexican Border Friday.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) CHARLESTON, June 27.—Examination of the officers of the medical corps of the Second regiment West Virginia was commenced Monday by members of the United States army, preparatory to examination of the entire force in camp at Kanawha City. This, it was expected, would require two days by which time the needed equipment probably will have arrived from the East.

While nothing official could be learned there was a persistent report in camp that the regiment would be ordered to the border on Friday. Major J. H. Allen, of El Paso, is the chief examining surgeon.

RICAUT REMOVED

As Commander by General Carranza for Failure to Attack American Forces.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) LAREDO, June 27.—First Chief Carranza has removed General Alfredo Ricaut, commander of the northeastern Mexican border patrol, and reinstated General Emiliano Nafarrate, now at Tampico. It was unofficially reported here Monday. The change was said to have been due to Ricaut's failure to attack the American forces that crossed the river in pursuit of bandits on June 17.

MAN LIVES AS WOMAN AND FOOLS POLICE

Court Matron Loses Job for Not Discovering Sex of the Prisoner.

The police authorities of New York city are agreed that of all female impersonators on the stage or off, Charles Miller, 28 years old, deserves the prize for persistently clinging to skirts in spite of arrests and imprisonment. Since 1912 the man has been known as Margie McHale, May Miller and Clara Smith. In view of his incorrigible desire to live as a woman, Miller has just been sentenced to a maximum term of two years in the workhouse for disorderly conduct.

A mob of men and boys was ready to set upon Lieutenant Duffy the other night when he made the arrest. Miller was attired in silks and lingerie, high-heeled shoes and a dashing broad-brimmed straw hat. His arm was held by an elderly, intoxicated man, who was showing the supposed young woman gallant attention as the pair paraded along the avenue. When Duffy, none too gently dragged the "lady" off to a patrol box the crowd yelled its protests. But the lieutenant yanked off the prisoner's hat and wig and invited some of the onlookers to pass their hands over the fair one's sand-papered chin. Then the mob dispersed with laughter.

Stripped of his Finery. In the Yorkville prison "May" Miller was rudely stripped of all finery except silk stockings and high-heeled shoes, and was garbed in a rough woolen shirt and paint-stained overalls dug up by one of the keepers.

At his hearing Miller told the judge that he was the youngest of a family of six boys. He said that his mother had longed always to have a daughter, and from his birth had considered him as a girl. She had addressed him, treated him and clothed him as a girl and had so accustomed him to the habit that he ended by preferring to act the part in which he had been trained.

In 1912 Miller's habit of wearing skirts got him into trouble. He was first sentenced to serve five days in the workhouse and emerged as "Margie McHale" from the woman's side of the prison, with no one the wiser. Later he was passed into the woman's side of the Tombs and a matron of the women's night court was discharged because she did not discover his sex. Once more he got over to Blackwell's island, and it was forty-eight hours before it was found that "Clara Smith" could, if "she" would, grow a fine set of whiskers.

Acted Girls' Parts on Stage. Always Miller's attire had been fashionable and costly. His large eyes, small nose and mouth and his manner of speech are decidedly womanish. His small foot would put most girls to shame. Miller asserted that he had made many attempts to live in man's attire and in a man's way, but had found it impossible to obtain employment. Whenever he chose to don women's clothing, he said, he found no difficulty in getting positions in choruses, and had taken successfully soubrette parts in musical comedies and in vaudeville.

The Man Who Knows Wears Nussbaum's Clothes

Now's the time for Men's Serge Suits—and this is the Store

We have made a particular study of Serge. The study begins in the choosing of the lightest weight that can be trusted to hold its shape, color and good looks. Yet, some men may have a notion that they can't get a Serge Suit cool enough for warm days. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The skeleton lined idea has revolutionized the cloth suit. The Coats are not burdened with a bit of superfluous weight. It takes tailoring of more than ordinary cleverness to produce such clothes—the brands we have are noted for that.
